

Chris Booth – Associate small animal veterinary surgeon, Oakham Veterinary Hospital

Chair; It shouldn't happen... but it does. Saturday 26 September, 11.00 – 12.00

Chris attended Bristol University from 1998-2004 and graduated with degrees in Zoology and Veterinary Science. He then went into mixed practice in the South West for four years before moving to his present position as a small animal veterinary surgeon in 2008. He is currently studying towards the RCVS certificate in Veterinary Cardiology.