

Grant Petrie - President of the British Small Animal Veterinary Association

Chair: Friday 24 September

- 14.30 – Managing heart failure in practice
- 15.00 – Managing difficult wounds in practice
- 16.00 – Managing mast cell tumours in practice
- 16.30 – Management of cranial cruciate disease in dogs – what should we do?

Grant Petrie qualified from Cambridge University in 1987. He undertook an internship at Bristol University Veterinary School before a period in private practice. He was Resident in Small Animal Internal Medicine at the Royal Veterinary College, London, from 1994-1998. After a further period in private referral practice, he returned to the RVC as a lecturer in small animal medicine. He now offers an internal medicine referral service in London at the Portman and Bayswater Referral Clinics. He is currently President of the British Small Animal Veterinary Association.