

Simon Hall – Chief Veterinary Officer, Scotland

Speaker; Who will take the high road? Saturday 26 September, 16.00- 17.00

Simon qualified from Cambridge in 1984 and then spent 6 years in mixed practice Devon and Gloucestershire. In 1990 he joined the State Veterinary Service as a Veterinary Officer. In 1997 he joined the Animal Welfare policy team followed by spells in disease control and international trade. In July 2009 Simon was appointed as Chief Veterinary Officer (Scotland).